21 DAYS CHALLENGE

Focus Area for Day 1:

Today’s focus is simple: getting comfortable in front of the camera. We want to get used to speaking and recording ourselves without worrying about perfection. It’s all about being natural and getting familiar with the process.

Your Task:
Read the article shared below.

Article to Read:

There is a rather nice story of two monks walking from one village to another. They come upon a young girl sitting on the bank of a river, crying. One of the monks goes up to her and says, “Sister, what are you crying about?” She replies, “You see that house over there, across the river? I came over this morning early and had no trouble wading across, but now the river has swollen, and I can’t get back.

There is no boat.” “Oh,” says the monk, “That is no problem at all.” He picks her up, carries her across the river, and leaves her on the other side. Then the two monks continue on their way. After a couple of hours, the other monk says, “Brother, we have taken a vow never to touch a woman. What you have done is a terrible sin. Didn’t you have pleasure, a great sensation, in touching a woman?” The other monk replies, “I left her behind two hours ago. You are still carrying her, aren’t you?”

Activity Instructions:

1. Focus on reading clearly: Look into the camera occasionally.
2. Don’t worry about mistakes: It’s okay if you make errors or mispronounce words.
3. Just keep going and record in one attempt.
4. Don’t worry about your background, your looks, or how you sound.
5. Be natural and candid.

I’m excited to see your first video. Good luck and have fun! 🤩
