21 DAYS CHALLENGE

Focus Area:
Today’s focus is on how to express your feelings in a structured and effective way using the FEEL Framework.

Instructions:

Step 1: Express Your Feelings

- Start by clearly expressing your feelings about the topic.
- Example: “Today, I want to share how I feel about living in a joint family. It makes me feel deeply connected and supported.”

Step 2: Explanation

- Explain or give a reason for your feelings.
- Example: “Having family around means I’m never alone.”

Step 3: Example

- Share an example that supports your feelings and reason.
- Example: “Last year, when I was juggling work and a newborn baby, my mother-in-law helped with the baby, and my sister-in-law offered encouragement and advice. It felt like a team effort.”

Step 4: Loop Back

- Loop back or close the loop by reiterating your main point.
- Example: “In conclusion, living in a joint family gives me a strong sense of family support, making life’s challenges easier to handle. That’s why I value it so much.”

Conclusion:

Now, I want you to repeat this in the same manner. Practice this exercise to become more confident in sharing your feelings naturally and clearly.

Good luck, and see you in the next challenge!
